

ARGON: Deep Learning Software for the Automated Generation of Diagnostic Reports from Radiology Images.

Dr. Nicolas Perez Gonzalez

Why

- Writing reports for X-rays is slow and time consuming
- That limits how many examinations can be done per day
- Writing reports is error-prone

How

- Multi modal machine learning model to predict text
- System processes images and suggests text for reports

What

- Medical software that will be used in Radiology departments

